The Reed is a contemporary, versatile collection. This clean-lined, approachable style is visually anchored by a generous track arm that curves upward for a stylish effect. Fibre filled back cushions create a pillow-like softness, which integrate with a seat designed for lasting stability and support. Modern top-stitching details are featured throughout and the seat cushions feature a box-border detail. The Reed collection has a solid wood, espresso finish leg that finishes the look in both a sofa or a sectional. The Reed collection looks great in both leather and fabric, making it an adaptable style for any room design.
